DETAILED ACTION

1. Claim 2, lines 2-3, "CCD" is unclear and should be spelled out.
2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP (9245880) in view of France et al (6672900).

JP (880), Figs. 1-13 show a case portion 5 having an electrical part chamber 10 formed therein for receiving an electrical part, a connector portion 6 integrally formed with the case portion, a seal member chamber 23, a partition wall 4, a connection terminal 17,18 with a contact portion 15 projecting into the seal chamber, a seal member holder 3 disposed within the seal chamber. JP (880) does not show the case member having a seal holder to be fitted on an outer peripheral surface of the connector portion and the seal member holder having an annular groove to receive the annular lip portion of the seal member. France, Figs. 3-2 show a case member 66,70 having a seal holder 66 to be fitted on an outer peripheral surface of the connector portion (not labeled) and the seal member holder having an annular groove (not labeled) to receive the annular lip portion 122 of a seal member 118. It would have been obvious to one with skill in the art to modify the connector of JP (880) by forming the case member with a seal holder to be fitted on an outer peripheral surface of the connector portion and the seal member holder having an annular groove to receive an annular lip portion formed on the seal member, as taught by France, in order to secure the seal member in the connector portion.

As to claim 2, JP (880) shows the electrical part could be a CCD camera unit and adapt to be received in the electrical chamber in a seal condition.

4. Oka, Shinozaki, Maeda and Takagishi et al are cited for disclosure of electrical connectors having a seal member.

5. Any inquiry concerning this communication should be directed to Hien D. Vu at telephone number 571-272-2016.
